CSYRETAILSYSTEMS

CSY RETAIL SYSTEMS

Sell smarter with a tailored retail EPOS and ecommerce solutions from CSY Retail Systems

CSY Retail Systems was established in 1988 and has been providing EPOS systems to retailers ever since. The requirements of retail have changed in recent times and we have changed, embracing multi-channel retailing and offering it to all our customers.

Our customers include pharmacies, garden centres, tile and flooring, hardware stores, department stores, delicatessens, farm shops, specialist food stores (such as Kosher supermarkets), builders merchants and cook shops.

CSY's broad customer base has become one of our major strengths. We have been able to take good practice from one type of retail and use it in another. Time after time, our customers have recognized this valuable asset.

All of our services are provided in-house from our offices in Nottingham. This means we can ensure and monitor the quality of those services. We write our own software and listen to our customers who help drive its ongoing development.

Support

CSY provide a 7 day helpdesk service, including bank holidays, so you can have access to a Vector expert when you need them. Our remote access tools mean that we can swiftly resolve any questions or problems that you might have.

We provide a 'box-swap' maintenance service meaning that if your equipment was to fail, we will have a replacement to you the following working day.

At CSY, we believe in training so that you can get the best from your investment. We will provide you with the essential training that you need on-site to get your system up and running. Our purpose-designed training centre offers additional training courses so that you can explore the more advanced features of Vector.

You will have access to our online customer web portal.

Handheld Printers

Handheld

Our touchscreen handheld terminal helps save time and effort with stock takes, goods receiving, order picking, price amendments and more...

Printer

There are often reasons to reduce prices on items. For example those with short shelf life or those that have been damaged. Our portable printer allows easy reduction label printing.

eCommerce

Web Design

CSY's in-house web design team offer a bespoke website design service providing you with the website that you really want. All of our websites are designed to be fully responsive so that whatever device your customers are using, your online store will be presented in the best possible way.

Web Integration

Our websites are fully integrated with Vector. All of your product information, images, pricing and stock levels are all transferred directly from your EPOS system to your website. This makes control of your products much simpler with everything being managed in one place.

Use Vector's comprehensive reporting tools to analyse your internet sales.

As your system is linked directly to your website, orders that are placed on your website are automatically transferred into Vector so that you can produce picking notes, dispatch notes and keep track of remaining stock levels.

We also integrate with Amazon to allow you to sell through the Amazon marketplace.

Shelf Edge Labels

CSY offer two types of shelf edge labels.

We have standard black and white labels and our new colour shelf edge labels which can be used to show your customers whether a product is fair trade, organic, gluten free, vegetarian, vegan or any other attribute that you wish to highlight. These can be customized to different colours, shapes or symbols for each attribute.

Scales

With CSY, you can now control your butcher and deli scales from within Vector. Programming of new items and price changes can now all take place in Vector, meaning no more running around to each scale.

By entering all your product ingredients into Vector, you can send the information directly to your scales over the network. All allergens are automatically highlighted saving you time and effort.

Go Zero Waste

CSY are now able to support “Zero Waste” shopping. By using our scales, your customers can bring in their own containers for goods and pay for the produce inside.

Simply weigh your container, take the label that is produced, with the weight of your empty container on, then once you have filled your container with a product, select it on the scales, scan your label and reweigh your container.

The scales will then take away the original weight of your container and only charge for the amount of produce in the container.

Retail Intelligence Module

In an ever-changing retail world, it is important to make the most of your customer base. You need to be increasing spend, visits and the size of the customer base itself. Many of our customers are already using our customer loyalty program to help with this.

We wanted to offer you the chance to take this further, which is why we have launched our new retail intelligence module. This sits alongside our existing customer loyalty system allowing you to create targeted offers that will help you invigorate your customer base, get them visiting more often and spending more!

With CSY Retail Intelligence you segment your customers into groups based on one or more of the following:

- Customer spend in a time period
- Customer visits in a time period
- Customers who haven't visited in a time period
- Spend in a particular department(s) in a time period
- Non-spend in a particular department(s) in a time period
- Purchase of a particular item(s) in a time period
- Non-purchase of a particular item(s) in a time period
- Current loyalty points balance
- Postcode area

Then once you have created your target group, you can attach a targeted promotion to make your campaign.

CSY Retail Intelligence works with Mailchimp, a leading email marketing tool, to deliver these targeted campaigns. Once you have created your campaign with a customer group and an offer, you can simply send that campaign to Mailchimp. Then when you login to Mailchimp the customers and offer barcode are waiting for you to build into an email template. You can also use the powerful reporting tools in Mailchimp to check that your email campaign has launched as you want it to.

You can also create an export of the campaign information if you want to use this in a mail merge as part of a postal campaign.

The Retail Intelligence module includes additional reporting tools to measure the effectiveness of your targeted campaigns allowing reporting on:

- Total customer spend for a campaign
- Number of campaign promotions redeemed
- Customer spend before and after a campaign including basket size and average item price
- Total sales to the campaign (with quantity/profit/avg basket/avg spend/visits)
- Promotion sales to the campaign (with quantity/profit/avg basket/avg spend/visits)
- Sales by day (with quantity/profit/avg basket/avg spend/visits)
- Additional spend (showing the summed spend on top of the promotion item sale)
- Baseline sales – sales that have no marketing cost.

We also include a number of different ways of analysing and exporting the above information to make sure that it is working as effectively as possible for you, allowing you to adapt your campaigns to suit your retail environment and your customers.

what our customers say...

"CSY put in significant effort to bring existing data across to Vector and make sense of our complicated existing set-up. Having a team of developers on hand allowed this to happen and now we're in a great position to exploit the features of Vector that have given our teams more insight than ever before on our trading performance. So much so, that within a year of installing Vector on both sites, we've already seen an increase in our gross profit margin."

Martin Hiscox, The Better Food Company

"We were also looking for a more advanced system, and one that gives us better sales data and stock control. We use the sales data on a daily basis to inform us of all our buying decisions, also the stock control features are extremely helpful, especially during busy periods throughout the year."

"Overall it is an easy to use system that has huge benefits with regards to retailing effectively and efficiently. Most importantly to us, it allows us to control our stock and report on sales and transfers to other departments, enabling us to analyse our business better."

Emma Blandford, Uncle Henry's

"A representative from CSY came to see us and provided a full demonstration of their EPOS system and all its benefits for a growing business. Their stock control and reporting systems were very impressive and the introduction of card processing via broadband allowed a much quicker and efficient cashiering service."
